

Office of the Chief Scientist (AS)

The Office of the Chief Scientist advises the Center Director and senior staff on scientific and basic research issues related to the Center's programs. The office contributes to the formulation and administration of policies affecting the mission of the Glenn Research Center, and development, evaluation, and implementation of policy for Centerwide programs including the Dual Career Ladder Promotion process and the Interdependent Research and Development Fund

